Ten Million Dollar Fire

Lynn, Massachusetts, Almost Entirely Destroyed.

FIRE DEPARTMENT POWERLESS.

Engines From Boston, Salem, Marblehead and Other Surrounding Towns Unable to Stop the Conflagration and Hundreds of Fine Business Buildings and Great Factories Succumb to the Flames.

LYNN, Mass., Nov. 27.—Lynn, the City of Shoes, was yesterday afternoon visited by the greatest fire in its history, and with but two exceptions, the most disastrous which has ever visited New England. The exceptions are the great Boston fire of 1872, which destroyed between eighty and ninety millions of dollars worth of property, and the Portland fire of 1866, which caused a loss of between ten and twelve millions.

Yesterday's fire started at 11:55 a. m., raged over eight hours, devastated a square mile of the business section of the city and caused a loss estimated at $10,000,000. In fact, the greater part of Ward 4 is wiped out as regards the important shoe manufacturing blocks and prominent places of business.

The fire started in Mower's wooden building on Almont street, over the boiler, and spread with such rapidity that the excellent fire department of the city was powerless to cope with it. This large wooden building was soon doomed, and the flames leaped across a narrow passage way and communicated with the six-story brick block known as Mower's block. When these two buildings got well under way it was evident a terrible conflagration would result.

Simultaneously the four-story wooden shoe factory of Bennett & Bernard on Central avenue and the four-story wooden building on Almont street caught fire, and when under way a hurricane of flame was in progress which blanched the cheeks of all who were looking on. For eight hours the flames had full sway, the efforts of firemen and citizens seemingly being of no avail. The burned territory is bounded by the following named streets: Almont, Central avenue at its junction with Wilson street, Union street from its junction with Broad to the Boyden block on both sides, Mt. Vernon street entire, Central square entire; Beach street on both sides as far down as Lees lumber yard; Washington street from Monroe through to Union, Railroad avenue, all of Exchange street, Broad street, from the engine house on both sides up as far as the corner of Exchange; Spring street entire, besides dwelling houses too numerous to mention on Suffolk, Amity, Sagamore and Beach streets.

Aid arrived from Boston, Salem, Marblehead and other surrounding towns, but the united efforts seemed to have little effect on the hurricane of flame. Scenes familiar in the great Boston and Chicago fires were repeated in all their horrors—mothers fleeing with babes in their arms, express wagons loading at business and dwelling houses, and transferring goods to places of safety, in many cases a second removal being necessary, and the utmost confusion and alarm prevailing. The excitement increased and became a panic as it became realized that a conflagration threatened the entire business quarter was in progress.

After the fire had been burning two hours everybody agreed that it would not stop until it had reached the ocean, and this proved to be the case. Four daily newspapers are burned out—The Item, Bee, Press and News, three afternoon and one morning. Three National banks, the Central, Security and First National, together with the Lynn institution for savings, located in the First National block, are all wiped out. Twelve of the finest shoe blocks in the city are in the ruins and about twenty-five stores.

At this writing it is impossible to say how many dwellings are burned. The houses destroyed were mostly those occupied by poor people, in the vicinity of Beach street and the wharves. It is impossible as yet to estimate the insurance, but conservative estimates place the loss on property at $10,000,000. There were many narrow escapes from serious injuries, but no fatalities are reported. The high brick fire wall on the B. F. Spinney block served as a barrier to the further progress of the flames up Union street after that handsome structure had been gutted.

The Central Congregational church burned to the ground between 6 and 7 o'clock. The handsome First National bank block cost $65,000 to build. It was well insured. Located on the two top stones was the Oxford club. They had the handsomest club room in Essex county, and their loss is about $5,000, well insured. The First Methodist and First Universalist churches and several school houses have been thrown open to accommodate burned out families. Mayor Newhall has called a special meeting of the aldermen to take action and choose relief committees.

S. N. Breed & Company, the largest lumber dealers in Essex county, lose everything, including their handsome brick structure at Beach and Broad streets. They estimate their loss at $200,000, with about $125,000 insurance.

Dynamite and powder were used at frequent intervals to blow up wooden buildings, but with little effect. The fire virtually burned itself out, and at 7:30 was considered under control.

Both companies of the Massachusetts military located in Lynn were called out and put on partial duty.

A narrow escape from death was that of Ernest Williamson, who, in the early stages of the fire volunteered to take a line of hose up a ladder in front of Dagyr's building on Willow street to play from the top upon the west wall of the Mower brick block. He was followed by several other venturesome men, some of whom were firemen, but almost as soon as they reached the roof the intense heat compelled them to beat a hasty retreat, and the hose fell to the sidewalk. Williamson was the last man to descend, and he was nearly suffocated before he could get a footing on the ladder owing to its not being "dogged." He finally climbed down in an exhausted condition to the intense relief of hundreds who expected to see him perish. A few minutes later the upper west wall of the Mower block fell through the Dagyr building with a terrific crash. The left side of Williamson's face was blistered before he started downward in his descent for life. Thieves came in from Boston and other places and the amount of stealing was large.

Several of the shoe manufacturers burned out have country factories, and will transfer their business there for the present.

A house was blown up by powder at the corner of Broad and Exchange streets at 9:45, shattering window glass in all directions, but effectually checking the progress of the flames in that direction. The streets were covered with a network of fallen wires which impeded the progress of the firemen somewhat.

The Daily Item proprietors estimate their loss at $50,000 on building, machinery, etc., and they are insured for $40,000. They will rebuild at once. A fire boat could have done immense service in saving wharf property, but no boat was at hand, two from Boston having got stuck on the flats. One small schooner was burned at S. N. Breed's wharf.

From the corner of Spring street, on the southerly side of Exchange street to Broad street, was a row of wooden buildings varying from two to four stories in height, in which the shoe business was first conducted when the manufacturing centre began to be established in the vicinity of Central square. Starting from the corner of Spring street the first building was occupied by Willis W. George, sole leather dealer. Then followed in order the shoe factories occupied by William F. Hill & Company, Isaac M. Altwil, Denning and Wiggin, James B. Chase, Smith & Queercaux, shoe trimmings, Charles S. Vittum, Milton D. Porter and W. A. Estes & Company. Some stock was saved from several of the buildings, but only a small amount in the aggregate.

Mayor Newhall, in an interview late last night, said: "Lynn has suffered the greatest calamity in its history. The business portion of the city is almost a wreck. Over 6,000 persons are thrown out of work, and 200 families are homeless. The city of Lynn will be forced to issue an appeal for assistance. I am loth to do so, but am obliged under the circumstances to make such an appeal. It is impossible to compute the loss, but it must reach somewhere in the vicinity of $10,000,000."

The mayor makes a special appeal for clothing at once, as many occupants of the tenements burned lost everything.

Mayor Newhall last night made a requisition on Governor Ames for six companies of militia to do police and guard duty, and the requisite was taken to Boston by Maj. Frost. The request will undoubtedly be granted, and it is probable that at least two full companies will report here for duty.

Requisitions were made on all of the towns and cities within twenty miles known to have any apparatus, and all of those requests met with prompt response. Salem sent three engines, Beverly started one toward the burning city, Newburyport, Swampscott and Peabody sent what aid they could with one engine apiece, Everett and Chelsea both two engines and Marblehead two. Boston started five engines almost immediately, while a steamer and hose carriage came from as far west as Worcester. All of these rendered invaluable assistance, and their presence alone prevented a still more disastrous conflagration. Of water there was a great sufficiency, and only one or two hydrants failed to respond to pressure on them.

Boston Will Send Aid.
BOSTON, Nov. 27.—Mayor Hart has called a citizens' meeting, to take action in connection with the Lynn conflagration.

Twenty Buildings Burned.
PITTSBURG, Nov. 27.—A special to The Times from Leechburg, Pa., says: Fire last night burned a block consisting of twenty houses, stores etc. Loss over $100,000. The fire broke out at 6 o'clock and burned for three hours. The buildings were mostly frames. Loss $125,000; insurance two-thirds.

THE ACCUSED NEGROES

Testimony Brought Out at the Trial of the Navassa Rioters.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 27.—All the witnesses yesterday in the Navassa trial were of the eighteen accused negroes. James Phillips swore Roby threatened to kill "Blue Ball." At the governor's house witness was shot in the face by Fales and in the mouth by Dr. Smith.

Alfred Jones, "Texas, Shorty," swore the men went to the governor's house, intending to ask for better treatment, but Dr. Smith would not listen to their grievances. Witness denied leading Roby's gang to the riot.

James Johnson testified that Roby threatened "Blue Ball's" life. Witness admitted having thrown dynamite at the house.

Norman Wooster swore he saw "Texas" chasing Fales with a gun.

Stephen Peters testified that he went after Shea to get that officer's gun. Some one threw a stone and knocked the gun out of Shea's hand. The fall exploded the gun. Witness got the gun and Shea continued his flight.

Other witnesses corroborated Peters' statement.

Cubans Exalted.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 27.—The latest advices from Key West indicate much excitement among the Cuban population there, with reference to the recent outbreaks at Matanzas. The Spanish consul has returned to Havana.

The Suspects' Alibis.

All of Them Refuted in the Cronin Trial.

THE STATE CLOSES THE CASE.

After the Examination of a Number of Witnesses Court Adjourns Until Friday Morning on Account of the Serious Illness of a Little Child of Juror North.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Bailey Dawson, a well known politician, was the first witness called yesterday morning in the Cronin trial. He testified that the meeting between Beggs and Col. Babcock took place on the evening of May 11 instead of May 4, as sworn to by Francis Glensou.

This evidence was corroborated by Col. Babcock himself, who was the next witness.

The saloon keeper, Nieman, testified that the tall man that was in his saloon Saturday night, May 4, was not James Hyland, as claimed by O'Sullivan.

This was considered all the refutation the ice man's alibi required, and the witness, after passing through the cross-examination fire unscathed, he was permitted to depart, and Simon Olsen, a livery keeper, was called.

With Olsen and his employee the state intended to demolish, or at least materially weaken Burke's alibi. This alibi was that Burke was all the evening of May 4 in Danahy's saloon. William Coughlin and John O'Mally swore to seeing him there, they together having stopped there about 7 o'clock on their way to a West Side saloon opening.

Olsen swore that on the evening of May 4 at 6:30 o'clock he sent his driver, Fred Swanson, with a carriage to William Coughlin's saloon on John O'Mally's order. He saw it stop in front of the saloon, and ten minutes after it had driven away. The carriage returned to the stable at 12:30 o'clock that night.

Then the driver, Swanson, told his story, and when he had finished there was a big hole in Burke's alibi. He swore that a few minutes after stopping at Coughlin's saloon, O'Mally and a young man got into the carriage and he drove them directly to the West Side, not even passing Danahy's saloon. And that neither did they do so on the return, which was not until after midnight. William Coughlin was not with the party. The cross-examination was very lengthy, but the witness possessed a clear memory and his story remained unshaken.

Suspect Burke looked very crestfallen when the witness left the stand. William Coughlin and John O'Mally had been very positive in their testimony about seeing him in Danahy's and also that they, the two witnesses, were together.

Robert Stanton, the printer of O'Sullivan's cards, testified that no such man as Witness Minnehan testified to having received a handful of cards from in April, worked for him at that time.

Harry L. McMahon, Stanton's foreman, who slightly resembled the description given by Minnehan, and who was the only one in the printing office who bore such resemblance, swore that he never gave any of O'Sullivan's cards to anybody in April.

Frederick Ebersold, inspector of police, was then asked as to whether Detective Rohan ever told him in the presence of Detective Crow about Mertes having heard sounds of fighting in the Carlson cottage. The inspector had not, and this was the unpleasant position Crow found himself Monday made more awkward.

Following the inspector Mary Bruntz, the wife of a hardware store keeper, and his assistant in the store, bolstered up the testimony of Mrs. Hoertel, about her being locked out by her husband on May 4, by telling of Hoertel's having bought a lock of her the first part of May.

On the cross-examination she was asked how she remembered the circumstances. She replied it was because Hoertel said that he wanted the lock to keep his wife out of the house.

Alfred Kleinecke testified to having seen Mrs. Hoertel climb into the window of her house, because of her inability to get in through the door. This was the week ending May 4. He was very sure of the incident and date, and the defense proved unable to mix him up.

An attack on the character of August Salzman, the witness who, for the defense, swore that Hoertel did not purchase the lock until May 8, was then made by the state calling Chris. Thiesen, Edward King, Charles Rapoth, Charles Newman, all reputable business men or lawyers, declaring that the character of Salzman was very bad, so bad that none of them would believe him under oath.

At the afternoon session Fred Hochkirch and Gustav Brunke testified that Salzman's life had been one of general iniquity and they considered his word unworthy of belief, even under oath.

Patrick Dinan was recalled and testified to having had a conversation with Coughlin and Capt. Schnack shortly after the murder, and that when asked by them to give a description of the driver of the white horse he told them to furnish their own description as Coughlin knew the man well.

Andrew Anderson, a liveryman, swore that the opening of Nieman's saloon occurred on the night of May 5, and that a large crowd was present. It was this night the Hylands swore to going there with O'Sullivan, and that no one except the bartender was present.

Policeman Smith told of having, by direction of the state, examined the files of all the daily papers, and that not a word was said about Coughlin being connected with the case before May 25. This was in view of Coughlin's alibi, witnesses testifying to their recollection of the occurrences of May 4 being freshened because of their having seen Coughlin's name in the papers the week following the murder.

Edward H. Bailey, editor of The Lake View Record, took the chair to declare that he had not delivered O'Sullivan's cards to anyone, and at the conclusion of his testimony, State's Attorney Longnecker arose and said: "This closes the case of the people."

With the understanding that one or two witnesses more would be heard on reconvening, the court adjourned to Friday morning. The long recess is due to the illness of a little child of Juror North.

BRUTAL WHITE CAPS.

A Man Dragged from His House at Midnight, and Beaten Into Insensibility.

ANDERSON, Ind., Nov. 27.—A horrible outrage, perpetrated by White Caps has just come to light, and Prosecutor Wood proposes to make it decidedly warm for the brutal fiends.

In the little village of Elwood, this county, resides an inoffensive man named T. J. Myerly. He is a common laborer and the support of a family consisting of four members. On Monday night five masked men called at Myerly's home at midnight. One of the number knocked at the front door for admission.

Myerly answered the call. No sooner had he opened the door than he was grabbed by the Cappers and dragged from his home in his night-clothes and hurried to the outskirts of the town, where his scant clothing was removed, and with switches and boards in the hands of these fiends the poor man was beaten into insensibility.

Not being satisfied with using switches, boards with long sharp nails, were applied, and with every stroke blood spurted in a stream, and the flesh was torn in a horrible manner. Never in the annals of criminal history has there been committed, in point of brutality, anything that approaches this case. It is claimed that Myerly was addicted to whipping his wife. Be this as it may, this did not justify the outrage upon the person of Myerly.

Prosecutor Wood has been put in possession of the facts in the case, and as soon as Myerly is able to appear proceedings will be begun in the courts. It is claimed that the victim recognized his assailants. The parties suspected are local toughs.

OFF TO MEET STANLEY.

The Zanzibar Expedition Starts and Expects to Reach the Returning Explorer.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—James Gordon Bennett has received the following dispatch from his special correspondent in Africa, dated at Bagamoyo:

"We left Zanzibar yesterday afternoon in a dhow flying the American flag at the mast head. I brought with me fifty porters to carry provisions and comforts for Stanley and his company and also a packet of letters and a parcel of clothes for Capt. Casati, which were intrusted to me by the Italian consul of Zanzibar."

"Our expedition will leave for the environs of Bagamoyo this afternoon, where a large caravan, made up of several smaller ones, numbering in all 2,000 persons, has been formed. This will start to-morrow morning for the interior under the escort of Baron Von Gravenruth, who carries supplies to Emin Pasha. We shall have one hundred armed men with us."

"The Herald caravan follows immediately after the supplies for Emin Pasha. Baron Von Gravenruth leads the company. Then comes the Baron's personal effects, and then myself, followed by my men. I have heard from Stanley by Arabs who have met him. They say his hair is quite white, that he has clothes, and carries boxes with him, but that he has no ivory. We expect now to meet him in a week. Capt. Wissman arrived here to-day to see us off."

Stanley Met at Kitaka By Missionaries.
MTONI, Africa, Nov. 27.—A caravan from the French mission has just arrived here from Mohandas. They met Stanley at Kitaka. He was then only six days out from Bagamoyo.

SWINDLED BY TELEPHONE.

A Brooklyn Bank Pays a Forged Check on Instructions By Telephone.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Nov. 27.—The National City bank, of Brooklyn, was defrauded of $750 yesterday by means of a false telephone message and a forged check. The message informed the bank that Clapp Brothers, of 979 Fulton street, had sent a district messenger boy to get a check for $750 cashed, and that it was all right. When the boy presented the check it was paid without question.

The check had been given to the boy by a man who stood in the doorway of Clapp & Brothers' store. The man telephoned the bank from the telephone station nearest the store. When the boy came back with the money, the man took it and walked away. The messenger, thinking it odd that the man had not entered the store, went inside and asked if the firm had sent the check. This revealed the swindle, and an attempt was made to catch the thief, but he had escaped. Inquiry at the bank revealed the fact that $450 more had recently been paid out on checks purporting to be signed by Clapp Brothers, making the total loss $1,200.

At Elwood, Ind., T. J. Myerly was dragged from his house at midnight by White Caps, stripped naked, and beaten into insensibility.

The Ohio legislature will be asked to authorize the issue of bonds to make good a deficiency of $80,000 in the Warren county treasury.

Thieves pursued by mounted men at Irvington, Ind., compelled a brakeman to couple a freight train, took possession of a huckster's wagon and escaped.

A detective named Baldwin, whose effective work has made him obnoxious, was shot and perhaps fatally wounded near Elkhorn, W. Va., by some unknown person.

Thomas Loving was found dead in the highway near Morton's Gap, Ky., with a pistol in his hand and a bullet hole in his head. His death is supposed to have been the result of an accident.

THE EVENING BULLETIN

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
 ROSSEN & MCCARTHY,
 Proprietors.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 27, 1889.

ILLINOIS Republicans are thankful they had no election this fall. They are no exceptions out there to the average member of the g. o. p. and are badly demoralized and split up into factions over the fight for the spoils. Let them fight.

The Washington Post remarks that "Ex-President Cleveland, in his speech at the recent dinner of the New York Chamber of Commerce, directed attention to a matter of vast importance to the best interests of this Republic when he said: 'I can not be mistaken when I say that some dangers which beset our political life might be avoided or safely met if our business men would more actively share in public affairs, and that nothing would better befit the character and objects of your organization than a practical movement in this direction.'"

Poor little Ben Harrison. His administration isn't proving a brilliant success, if one is to judge from all that is being spoken on the subject. "Gath" has a very poor opinion of the President and says it is settled already that he will not be his party's nominee for re-election. Then there is Wharton Baker, the Philadelphia Republican statesman, who wanted to nominate Harrison for President in 1884, and who was a prominent factor in the movement that culminated in the nomination of 1888. He is very much disgusted with the administration, and warns Harrison that there will be no Republican party left in this country unless the present policy is reversed.

HERE'S a center shot made by the Louisville Times. Let members of the Legislature read and govern themselves accordingly. The Times says: "It seems pretty well settled that the Kentucky Legislature will vote the Offut bill constitutional and call a convention to form a new fundamental law for the old Commonwealth. Should the call be made, there will be no necessity for the Legislature to remain in session more than six weeks, and every dollar of salary paid the members after that time will be so much indirectly stolen from the people. Nobody knows what sort of a constitution is going to be presented to the people, and it would be an act of arrant supererogation to pass laws to fit a constitution not yet in esse. Let the Legislature resolve to adjourn very soon after the convention is called, and let the people keep their eyes on the statesmen who seek to prolong the session."

APPROPOS of the Swope-Goodloe affair, Mr. Thomas H. Clay, (a native of Kentucky but now a resident of Boston), addresses a letter to the Boston Post in defense of the civilization of Kentucky against the strictures of the New York Nation and other papers of the North and East. The charge made by the Nation that the boys in this State "are brought up to consider the taking of life to be often necessary and possibly praiseworthy," was admirably answered by Mr. Clay thirty years ago when he illustrated the spirit of the generation to which Swope and Goodloe belonged, by kicking the bully of his school in a "fair stand-up fight with fists." He was then a slender lad in his teens and as gallant a little gentleman as ever figured in an impromptu "mill." He was not only spirited and plucky, but even, under extreme provocation, thoroughly amiable, courteous and well-bred.

The receipts of internal revenue for the current fiscal year will amount to $135,000,000, $5,000,000 more than last year and $11,000,000 more than the year before. "Deducting the annual pension charge of nearly $100,000,000 and the interest on the public debt, it is instructive," says the Epoch, "to note that the internal revenue taxes are sufficient to pay the entire expenses of the Government, economically administered." This brings the Cincinnati Post to the front with the following:

But the public debt is rapidly approaching extinction, and though the pension list continues to grow, the day is not far off when it must also disappear for lack of survivors of the war. It is, therefore, easy to understand the anxiety of the high tariff advocates to get rid of the internal revenue system. We could dispense with half the receipts from duties on imports to-day if there is to be no interference with the taxes on whiskey, tobacco and malt liquors.

As years go by the increase of the yield of these taxes will render more and more apparent the uselessness of the present tariff system. The Post may be all right as the public debt, but the day is far distant when the pension list will not cost this government millions of dollars annually.

As to the other comment of the Post, if the question were left to the people of this country they would undoubtedly vote overwhelmingly to keep up the tax on whisky, malt liquor and tobacco, and reduce the tariff on the necessities of life.

Kiver Items.

Captain E. B. Moore, formerly of the Bonanza, has retired from the river business.

The St. Lawrence takes the place of the Bostona, and the Sherley passes up this evening for Pittsburg in place of the St. Lawrence. The Bostona goes to Memphis for one trip.

Down: Rainbow and Bonanza this evening and Telgraph to-night. Up: Handy for Portsmouth, Sherley for Pittsburg this evening.

The doll carnival Friday evening will be given in the Bee Hive building on Sutton street. The rooms are being nicely fitted up and will present an attractive scene, especially for the young folks, when the dolls are arranged. Oysters will be served. Admission 10 cents.

ONE reason for the brilliant Democratic victories this year is the fact that the rank and file under the banner of tariff reform and honest government present a solid, invincible front, while their friends, the enemy, are badly demoralized and broken up by internal strife and rows over the spoils.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

MAYSBLICK.

Still dark, gloomy, rainy weather. Farmers have a hard time to get feed for their stock. The ground is too soft to enter the fields.

The confirmation of the children last Sunday at the Catholic Church was very imposing, and was largely attended. Our town was full and the best of order prevailed.

Owing to so much bad weather, there has been very little corn shucked yet.

J. A. Jackson has on hand a good supply of bucking gloves and shuening plin. Call early to be sure of some of them.

John Pyles sold his tobacco to Thomas Best for over $10, from the ground up, in good order. Several other crops have been sold at 10 cents in stripping order.

A great many of the farmers are almost through stripping their tobacco.

J. A. Jackson is now offering the very best brands of prints at 5 cents a yard, and a big drive on shawls and all his woolen goods for cash only. Call and see the bargains.

CONCORD, LEWIS COUNTY.

Oscar B. Cox is in Ohio on a visit.

Miss Annie Biggar, of Manchester, was visiting here Sunday.

R. B. Lovel, of Maysville, paid our village a flying visit last Sunday.

The boys go out daily, rain or shine, and bring in game in abundance.

Mrs. Mary A. Lovel, mother of R. B. Lovel of Maysville, will spend the winter here.

Mrs. R. D. Taylor has gone to Covington to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Fannie Bean.

Several of the R. R. boys have gone to Georgetown, Ky., to get work on the Kentucky Midland.

The C. & O. R. R. Co. are fitting up their station here, and it will be second to none on the line when done.

John Smith, of Akron, O., who has bought Merchants Mill here and the U. & T. Turnpike, has moved to our place.

F. M. Redmon, of Rushville, Ind., and Sheriff of Rush County, is here on a visit to old friends after an absence of over thirty years.

The Oddfellows will have a festival Thanksgiving night for the benefit of the order. A grand feast and good time generally is anticipated.

Several of the friends of Mrs. Susan Boyd will drop in on her Thanksgiving day with an abundance of the good things of this life, it being her 75th birthday.

DR. A. H. WALL quietly celebrated the seventy-ninth anniversary of his birth last Sunday. He is an active and well-preserved man for one of his age.

BILL ARP is one of the most noted humorists of the day. He will be here on the night of December 10th, and will no doubt be greeted by a crowded house.

THE most permanent Christmas present would be a life-sized portrait of your father, mother, son and daughter. Kackley's life-size portraits are just the thing.

If you wish a bargain in felt hats, bonnets, feathers, birds, or any goods in the millinery line, call at Miss M. C. Hudson's, Front street. Pinking and stamping done to order.

The concert to-night in the Aberdeen Baptist Church promises to be an unusually enjoyable event. Bear in mind the ferry-boat will run for the accommodation of those who wish to attend from this side.

The annual meeting of the Mason County Bible Union will be held next Sunday evening at the Christian Church, at 7 o'clock. Election of officers, reading of reports and other business will be transacted.

Those who have not received tickets they were entitled to, with purchases made at Ballenger's, will please call and ask for them. It is not his intention to slight any of his customers, but in the rush of business he sometimes forgets to give tickets.

MAYSVILLE DIVISION, U. R. K. of P., will give a big bazar and fair Christmas week. The K. of P. fair at Ripley last Christmas attracted hundreds to that city and the one to be given here will do as much for this city. It will be conducted on a big scale. Preparations are being made already. A committee to solicit contributions commence work to-day. Merchants and the public generally should encourage the Knights in every way possible.

"SQUIRE POWELL B. OWENS, of Fern Leaf, has sold about fourteen acres of land situated near the toll-gate on the Clarke's Run pike to William and Mose Savage for $125 per acre. This is a portion of the Isaac Reese farm of one hundred and twenty-five acres which was sold to 'Squire Owens last spring at $35 per acre. At the time of purchase 'Squire Owens sold about forty-seven acres of same tract to 'Squire J. B. Burgess at $108 per acre. Mason County land is a good investment and 'Squire Owens knows a good thing when he sees it.

THE suit of Ex-State Auditor Fayette Hewitt against the Owensboro Inquirer has been settled. The defendant retracted in the following terms:

The defendant, A. Y. Ford, for his answer herein, states that in the criticism complained of in the petition, as appearing in said newspaper, called the Inquirer, the following expression occurs: "Hewitt has himself admitted, under oath, that he knew Tate was behind in his accounts in 1883."

Defendant now states that upon a review of the plaintiff's said evidence, he does not believe plaintiff knew of said Tate's default earlier than the date fixed by himself, viz: the day of —, 1883, and to this extent defendant retracts said criticism.

The suit against the Covington Commonwealth is still pending.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

Is George M. Thomas Planning to Prevent McDowell's Confirmation as Collector?

Will the appointment of Mr. Thomas C. McDowell as Collector of this district be confirmed?

It may, and again it may not. Most likely it will go through.

Plans, however, are undoubtedly being laid to make a warm fight against him when the matter comes up in the U. S. Senate. Read the following:

The only white Republican club in Lexington or Fayette County is the Young Men's Republican Club of Lexington. The Treasurer says that Thomas C. McDowell, although elected a member, never paid his membership fee or any assessment made on him for campaign purpose.

And then peruse this certificate:

State of Kentucky, Fayette County Court —I Theo. Lewis, Clerk, of the County Court of Fayette County, State aforesaid, and as such the custodian of all records of or pertaining to said court, do hereby certify that I have examined the poll-books of the East Hickman and Karsner precincts of said county, and fail to find recorded in either of said books the name of H. C. McDowell or Thomas C. McDowell as having voted at the November election, 1880, for President, or otherwise. The residence of H. C. McDowell is in East Hickman Precinct of said county.

Witness my hand and the seal of said court this 25th day of November, 1880

THEO. LEWIS, Clerk Fayette County Court.

Mr. H. C. McDowell is the father of the young Collector, Mr. Thomas C. McDowell. The above statement and certificate were seen yesterday in the hands of one of the most active Republicans of this city, one of Judge Thomas' warm friends.

Judge Thomas came away from Washington with the understanding or belief that Mrs. Goodloe was to be appointed, and he and his friends were reported "mad as wet hens" when the position was given to young McDowell a day or so afterwards. The fact that the above statement and certificate have been obtained, and that, too, by Republicans shows that "there's something in the wind." For what purpose have these papers been obtained unless they are to be used against McDowell when his appointment comes up in the Senate for confirmation? Senator Sherman was Judge Thomas' most ardent advocate before the President, and he announced openly and above board that if Mrs. Goodloe was given the place, her appointment would not be confirmed unless by Democratic votes. It is reported his objections to her apply equally as well to her son-in-law, Mr. McDowell.

It looks like the Collectorship squabble is not yet at an end. But "time will tell."

Railroad News.

It is reported the contract for extending the Kentucky Midland from Paris to Owingsville will be let soon.

Says the New York Star: "Chesapeake & Ohio was a feature of Saturday's market. The tour of inspection over the road by a party of bankers and capitalists is said to be resulting in some heavy buying orders. There are also rumors of further deals in regard to the property, though what they may amount to remains to be tested."

It is reported the Charleston, Cincinnati and Chicago, now being constructed, has arranged with the Columbus, Hocking Valley & Toledo and Scioto Valley railways for a new short line for freight and passengers from Chicago to Columbus, O., through Columbus to Ashland, Ky., where connection is made to all points in the South.

The big engine recently built for the Chesapeake and Ohio, and weighing 135,000 pounds without a tender, has had her newness worn off in the freight service, and has been put at the work for which she was designed—the pulling of the Fast Flying Virginian over the mountains. She does it like a charm, obviating any necessity of "double-enders" when she is around.

The Kentucky Union will be complete for traffic to the Kentucky river in about ten days. A gentleman prominently connected with that company says there is enough freight in sight to pay the fixed charges of the road for the next twelve months. This road is being rapidly pushed to Jackson, in Breathitt County, it being under contract for completion by April 1. The present objective point is the canal coal fields, two miles this side of Jackson, not to mention the poplar, chestnut, hickory, ash, walnut, oak and other hard wood timber. The ultimate objective point will be either Big Stone Gap or Cumberland Gap, surveys being now at work exploring both routes. It is expected that the road will thus have splendid terminals east, as well as west, and that the line will be done by January 1891, if not sooner.—Exchange.

The Turf, Field and Farm.

The tobacco crop down about Dover is pronounced the best raised in that section for years. The growers are holding off for good prices in the spring.

At New Orleans, fifty-nine men, prominent in the cotton trade have made estimates on this season's cotton crop by bales with the following results: Lowest, 7,200,000; highest 7,800,000; average 7,500,000.

The Michigan Farmer says the wool-clip of the United States for the past year, fall and spring included, is now estimated at 272,000,000 pounds, which will be increased to 300,000,000 if there is no setback experienced by wool-growers.

At Horace Miller's sale in Bourbon last Thursday Short-horn cattle sold better than usual, ranging from $50 to $140, and averaging about $80. Jennets sold for upwards of $400, and mules from $140 to $160. per cwt. Horse stock and cows also sold well.

G. W. Bramel, of Mt. Gilead, bought one hundred and fifty-ninehead of two-year-old cattle last week, and drove them through to London, Ohio, for Payne & Webb. They averaged 1,400 pounds at London. He has an order for two hundred more for a firm at Marietta, Ohio.

George Hayes says he will match Norval, 2:17½, a son of Electioneer, to trot a match with any stallion in Kentucky for $2,500 a side. The money to be put up to trot the first good track or any time next year. No forfeits, all the money to be put up. George says he is ready any time with his money.—Lexington Leader.

Mr. Deckler Will Take Things Easy. Mr. Deckler is a married man and has two children. He resides at 631 Ninth avenue, on the third floor. For six or seven years he has worked for the firm of Wessel, Nickel & Gross, of 437 West Forty-fifth street. They are manufacturers of piano actions. On Labor Day he invested a dollar in a one-twentieth ticket in the Louisiana State Lottery. The number was 8,174. He read in the News the dispatch from New Orleans that ticket 8,174 had drawn the capital prize of $300,000. It made his wife open her eyes. He received a telegram that his dollar investment had yielded $15,000. He took the ticket to Wells, Fargo & Co. for collection. He received the $15,000, less the collection charge of $92.50.—New York Daily News, October 5.

Life Saving Service.

Annual Report of the General Superintendent.

A SPLENDID RECORD SHOWN.

Thousands of Lives and Millions of Dollars' Worth of Property Saved During the Year—Important Order in the Pension Office—Other Dispatches From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The secretary of the treasury has received the annual report of S. I. Kimball, general superintendent of the life saving service. At the close of the last fiscal year the establishment embraced 225 stations, 172 being on the Atlantic, forty-five on the lakes, seven on the Pacific and one at the falls of the Ohio, Louisville, Ky. Since the last report three new stations have been established, one at Matomkin Inlet, Va.; one at Galveston, Tex., and one at Michigan City, Ind. At the close of the year seven new stations were under contract, viz: Wallis Sands, N. H.; Knoch's beach, Cuttyhunk and Point Allerton, Mass.; Fort Point and Point Rheso, Cal., and Point Adams, Ora. Several stations have been rebuilt during the year, many others have been more or less repaired, and some have been removed to new sites.

The work of the crews during the year may be summarized as follows: Number of disasters, 533; value of property involved, $6,410,775; value of property saved, $5,054,440; value of property lost, $1,356,335; number of persons involved, 3,420; number of persons lost, 42; number of persons rescued, 787; days of steamer afforded, 1,730; number of vessels totally lost, 63; number of vessels otherwise aided by crews, that is, worked off when stranded, repaired when "damaged," piloted out of danger etc., 510; number of vessels warned from danger by signals of patrolmen, 217; number of persons rescued who had fallen from wharves, piers etc., 24.

Pension Office Order.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The pension commissioner has issued the following order:

"Great care must be exercised in the rejection of applications for pension. No case should be rejected until every available source of information has been examined, unless the rejection be clearly upon legal points. All letters rejecting claims shall be brought to the desk of the commissioner for signature.

"No rejected claim will be opened, except upon new and material evidence going to the cause of rejection. The deputy commissioners will have jurisdiction to reopen claims in the divisions respectively assigned to their charge. In all cases where evidence is filed for the reopening of the cases, the heads of adjudicating divisions will, at the proper time, cause to be prepared a brief statement of the facts on which the action of the deputy commissioner, who shall note his action thereon; whereupon the claimant shall immediately be informed by letter of the action of the office."

Southern Republicans in Conference.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Seven of the southern Republican members of congress met in conference last night on the speakership question. After an informal discussion of the claims of the different candidates, they adjourned without endorsing either of the candidates for speaker. Another conference will probably be held in a day or two after all of the southern representatives arrive in the city.

Not Sold Yet.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—It is denied on authority that the foreign patents of the Driggs-Shroeder gun have been sold to the English government for $600,000. Negotiations are now going on for the sale of these patents between England and the inventors.

MRS. HANNA B. SOUTHWORTH.

She is held Without Bail to Avail the Action of the Grand Jury.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Coroner Levy yesterday began the inquest into the death of Stephen L. Pettus, who was shot by Mrs. Hanna B. Southworth last Friday. Mrs. Martin, the mother of the prisoner, and her son William as well as the accused were in attendance.

Officer Goodwin, who arrested Mrs. Southworth, testified that when he arrived on the scene of the murder he found Mrs. Southworth standing in front of Bennett's tea store with a pistol in her hand. She said only these words: "He has ruined and dishonored me."

Several witnesses testified to seeing the shooting. Capt. McLaughlin, of the First precinct station house, to which Mrs. Southworth was taken when arrested, related a conversation he had with her immediately after her arrest. She asked him if Mr. Pettus was dead, and he told her yes. She was hysterical, but said that Mr. Pettus had ruined and dishonored her. She then told him a story to the effect that Mr. Pettus had taken her to a strange house and there, after drugging her, accomplished her ruin.

Assistant District Attorney Bedford asked Capt. McLaughlin if Mrs. Southworth answered questions intelligently at the station house. The answer was in the affirmative.

Mr. Howe said that he was willing to admit that Pettus came to his death at the hands of Mrs. Southworth.

The coroner said that the testimony of Dr. Jenkins, the deputy coroner, must be taken.

The inquest then adjourned until 1:30 o'clock.

After recess, Deputy Coroner Jenkins detailed the cause of death. The clothes the murdered man wore were produced.

The jury after being out twelve minutes found that Pettus came to his death by pistol shot wounds inflicted by Hannah B. Southworth.

In answer to the coroners question if she had anything to say, Mr. Howe said: "She has nothing to say beyond what she has just said to me, and that is that the bullets exhibited by Dr. Jenkins were but the breath of the diety."

The coroner held the prisoner without bail to await the action of the grand jury.

Steamer Burned at Sea.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The ship A. J. Fuller arrived last night with the crew and passengers of the steamer Santiago, which left New York Nov. 17, for Hull. Fire broke out in the cotton in the cargo of the Santiago on Nov. 18, when she was off Sable Island and spread rapidly. All hands had to take to the boats, and after drifting about all night they were picked up by the Fuller. The crew numbered seventy, and the passengers were Mrs. Knight and babe, Mr. C. Joy, and Mr. W. Wadsworth.

OHIO WOOL GROWERS.

They Prepare an Address to the Wool Growers of the United States.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 27.—At a called meeting of the Ohio Wool Growers' association held yesterday an important address to the wool growers of the United States was prepared. There was a good attendance of members and the address bore the signatures of David Harpster, president of the association; W. N. Cowden, secretary; Charles Stoolfire, M. H. Rhoads, members executive committee; David Boyd, J. C. Watson, C. Delano, T. C. Jones, C. K. Fowler, Isaac Clink, J. M. Allen, C. C. Caswell, William Lawrence and A. E. Sprague.

The address is quite lengthy, but the essential features are as follows: In view of the imminent danger which threatens all the industries of our nation, and especially the production and manufacture of wool, the wool growers of Ohio hereby address the following sentiments to the wool growers of the United States, and urge the necessity of unity and activity in order to avert the peril of free trade or free wool with which they are now menaced. The wool growers of Ohio therefore advocate a protective system. A tariff for revenue will not secure protection.

The result of the last presidential election was an emphatic expression by a large majority of people in favor of a comprehensive system embracing all our industries, including the protection of wool by name. If the Republican party in its legislation or administrative departments fails to comply with this expression, it will secure the reproach of insincerity or of inability to perform its duty.

As wool growers we ask the legislation and such administration of existing laws as are required by the deliberate promises made by the Republican party prior to the last presidential election.

We recognize the importance of preserving the wool manufacturing industry. They denounce the injustice of allowing the carpet industry to damage the wool industry by importing clothing wool under the false name of carpet wool.

The wool growers of the United States are called upon to be fully represented in the National convention of wool growers to assemble in Washington Dec. 3, 1889. They are urged to ask that congress shall give the wool and mutton industry protection to the full extent of the most favored of the manufacturing industries.

HAYTIAN TROUBLES.

Rumors of a Revolution Against Hippolyte Discredited.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Sensational reports were published yesterday, on the arrival of the Prins Frederik Hendrik, from Hayti, that there was a revolution in that afflicted country against President Hippolyte.

Capt. Prins, of the steamer, was credited with saying that the people of Port-au-Prince, the capital of Hayti, were up in arms against Hippolyte. He did say, however, that there was some dissatisfaction among some of the politicians. Kunkhardt & Company, the agents of the steamer, said that they had not heard of any serious trouble in Hayti. The members of the Haytian consulate did look a little serious when questioned about the reported revolution, but denied that there was any truth in the story.

Not Believed in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The Haytian minister discredits the reports of revolts in Hayti. He thinks the people are not yet rested from recent fighting.

Trusted Convict Skips.

JACKSON, Mich., Nov. 27.—Nathaniel Ostrander, a burglar, escaped from the penitentiary Monday morning. He was a trusted convict, and had keys to the different apartments. Warden Hatch gives as a reason for Ostrander's departure that the convict was mad.

Rain; stationary temperature; northwesterly winds; high on the lakes

A Rendezvous for Tramps.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 27.—A remarkable convention of tramps was held in the old Dundee breaker, near Nanticoke, Saturday. The breaker is a wooden structure 140 by 75 feet. It has served as a rendezvous for tramps for many years past. Of late the building has become very much dilapidated, but as a means of self-preservation the tramps concluded about a month ago to put it in good repair for the winter. A lot of timber was carried to the place, and two knights of the road who were carpenters by trade nailed up all the cracks, so that when the convention met the place was nice and warm. Frank McCarthy, the United States postmaster at Rhone, kindly donated an old stove for the use of tramps back in September.

Brazilian Republic Not Yet Recognized.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—Cable dispatches received by the foreign office from Rio de Janeiro say that no foreign government has yet recognized the provisional government of Brazil, and that the Brazilian ministry will await the decision of the assembly before claiming recognition. The French officials in Brazil have been instructed to maintain the good relations formerly held with the imperial government. All the foreign consuls in Brazil are receiving similar orders.

England Resists Portugal in Africa.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The Pall Mall Gazette publishes a dispatch from Prime Minister Salisbury to the British minister at Lisbon ordering the latter to protest against the Portuguese proclamation claiming countries north and south of the Zambezi river, in Africa. Lord Salisbury says that Mashona land, which is a part of the territory referred to in the Portuguese proclamation, is under British protection.

LOUISIANA STATE LOTTERY COMPANY.

Incorporated by the Legislature for educational and charitable purposes, and its franchise made a part of the present State Constitution, in 1879, by an overwhelming popular vote.

Its Grand Extraordinary Drawings take place semi-annually (June and December), and its Grand Single Number Drawings take place in each of the other ten months of the year, and are all drawn in public, at the Academy of Music, New Orleans, La.

We do hereby certify that we supervise the arrangements for all the Monthly and Semi-Annual Drawings of the Louisiana State Lottery Company, and in person manage and control the Drawings themselves, and that the same are conducted with honesty, fairness, and in good faith toward all parties, and we authorize the Company to use this certificate, with facsimiles of our signatures attached, in its advertisements.
